

Weather INnovations Incorporated
www.weatherinnovations.com

Programming / Database Developer – Junior to Intermediate

Job Type: Full Time

Location: Chatham, ON, CA

Number Of Positions: 1

Post Date: January 12, 2012

Winning careers happen at Weather INnovations Incorporated! We specialize in weather-based information and modeling, delivering customized solutions for individual commodity groups across Canada and internationally.

Our team members are results-oriented, innovative thinkers who work together to bring clients the answers they need.

Summary:

In a development role, you will have a combination of novel assignments as well as routine tasks. You will work on IT projects as part of a small development team, focusing primarily on web and database related programming assignments in a Windows PC based environment. Assignments will include intra-company projects as well as client-based projects.

Weather Innovations maintains and hosts all of the required services; ftp, web, database, file servers & more to support essential business activities. You will be responsible for improving and creating programs and processes to enhance the abilities, efficiencies and profitability of the corporation.

Key Accountabilities:

- Developing new applications & Processes
 - Programming cycle(s)
 - Developing, testing and deploying software
 - Working independently
- Systems Maintenance
 - Systems maintenance and routines
 - Creating maintaining programming environments
 - Streamlining and documenting source code(s)

Skills and Qualifications:

- Experience with client-server programming architecture
- Experience with webservice data exchange (XML, JSON, etc)
- Experience with MS-SQL 2005, Stored procedures and database architecture
- Experience with the following: ASP.NET, VB, C#, C++, Python, Java, Javascript, ColdFusion, MS Visual Studio and .NET technologies

- Ability to work with staff having a variety of computer skill levels
- Understanding of statistical methods and applications
- Understanding of source code maintenance applications such as SourceSafe
- Excellent organizational skills, team player
- Working independently

How To Apply:

Please send resumes to hr@weatherinnovations.com